Welcome Message from the President of LGES

The Lebanese Geotechnical Engineering Society is excited to host the inaugural Pan Mediterranean Geotechnical Engineering Conference in the vibrant and resilient city Beirut. This conference marks the beginning of an exciting journey to address challenging geotechnical problems faced by countries surrounding the Mediterranean Sea.

We are looking forward to engaging our attendees in thought-provoking discussions on seismic risks, coastal engineering, infrastructure development, and sustainable geotechnical construction practices.

We invite you to sponsor this event and to exhibit your products that showcase your services to a global audience. We look forward to make this event a groundbreaking gathering of professionals, researchers, and industry leaders from across the Mediterranean region.

Dr. Grace Abou Jaoude

Associate Professor at the Lebanese American University

President of the Lebanese Geotechnical Engineering Society

Welcome Message from the President of ISSMGE

When I was elected President of ISSMGE in 2022, I immediately thought of ways to contribute to Lebanon, my country of origin. As many of you know, ISSMGE–the International Society for Soil Mechanics and Geotechnical Engineering–is the oldest and largest society representing geotechnical engineers worldwide. Launching the Pan Mediterranean Geotechnical Engineering Conference, as a new regional conference series under the auspices of ISSMGE, turned a dream of many, especially in the cradle of civilization, into reality!

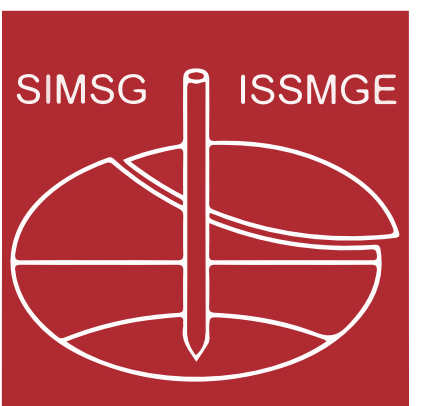

LGES is taking on a monumental responsibility of organizing and hosting the inaugural PMGEC. The team is doing an outstanding job of putting my home country on the global engineering map, particularly during Lebanon's new political era and its ongoing economic revival. The ISSMGE and I are fully committed to supporting this event, with plans to hold the in-person annual board meeting at the conference.

I warmly invite my dear geotechnical colleagues and friends from across the Mediterranean and beyond to attend and sponsor this landmark event. Besides the technical importance of the conference, by the end of March, participants will have the unique opportunity to enjoy a swim in the azure Mediterranean Sea and a hike in the snowy mountains–all in one day!

I am especially counting on geotechnical professionals of Lebanese origin to support this gathering in our beloved country. As Gebran Khalil Gebran wisely asked, “Are you a politician asking what your country can do for you, or a zealous one asking what you can do for your country?”

Dr. Marc Ballouz

President of ISSMGE

WHY SPONSOR?

Up to Date Science
